

GEOG-G 352

Food & Poverty in America

DESCRIPTION

This course examines the experience of food insecurity in the USA, the role of poverty in food production and consumption, and the current mitigation strategies and social movements challenging the global food regime. Students will learn the differences and connections between concepts of food security, food justice, and food sovereignty. Relationships between food and gender, race, and ethnicity will be explored, along with the geographical and social concepts of food deserts and food choice

HOW DOES THIS COURSE COUNT TOWARDS YOUR DEGREE?

- IUB GenEd Social and Historical Studies
- Culture Studies: Diversity in US